BULLOCH TIMES.

ESTABLISHED 1892.
PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY THE BULLOCH TIMES PUBLISHING COMPANY.
D. B. TURNER, Editor and Manager.
Subscription, $1.00 PER YEAR.
Entered as second-class matter March 25, 1902, at the post office at Savannah, Ga., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.
WEDNESDAY, JUNE 19, 1907.
Don't, Mr. Graves.

John Temple Graves is going ahead with presidential slate-making in a way that indicates his entire satisfaction with his previous nomination of Mr. Roosevelt for the democrats. His latest act is to couple Roosevelt and Hoke Smith together as running mates, Roosevelt at the head and Smith at the tail of the ticket.

John Temple may not mean his suggestion seriously, and certain it is that the people of the south will not accept it. There is a certain amount of consideration being shown Mr. Roosevelt in the south, but it is intended more for his office than the man. Then, too, his southern parentage has won for him a respect and sympathy that he would not otherwise obtain from us. But when it comes to accepting him as our presidential nominee, our people are not even interested in the proposition.

If he is to be elected again, the republicans can have the job all to themselves, and the south will continue to find pleasure in fighting against him as long as he keeps the company he is in.

No, Mr. Graves, you are welcome to boost Mr. Roosevelt for president all you want to, and of course, boom our own Hoke Smith as often as the impulse moves you; but don't couple them together in this manner. They are not going in the same direction, have not the same friends, and cannot run on the same ticket.

Can't Search Us.

Have you a $100.00 bill in your pocket?
You'd better send it in at once for redemption, and be prepared to tell where you got it. It will be recalled that some weeks back the subtreasury in Chicago was robbed of $170,000 in $100.00 bills.
The secret service has never been able to trace the theft and the stolen money is still outstanding. In order to checkmate the theft the Treasury Department is going to call in the whole issue of bills of that denomination, checking up the numbers as the bills are presented for redemption.—Savannah News.

This may be a sly effort on the part of the secretary of the treasury to ascertain just how many $100.00 bills the newspaper editors have; the secretary may think he can humiliate some of us by divulging the fact that we have "narry a one." And there may be some who haven't, but as for this scribe he doesn't propose to publicly confess his poverty, nor to let the high secretary of the treasury expose the same.
No, indeed, we are as rich as anybody. Those $100.00 notes all belong to the government, and we are a part of the government and can make more of 'em when we want to.

New Information Bureau.

There is to be a new bureau of immigration service, known as the Division of Information. It is to deal with the distribution of immigrants to the parts of the country where they will do the most good and where the country will do the most good for them. This will be good news to the states of the south and west if it prove true. The Bureau of Information is expected to keep in touch with the governors of the several states and with state immigration officials and even with boards of trade and similar commercial bodies. It is to accumulate all the information the immigrant can need in picking out a good location for himself and family.
The conception of the scheme is good, and it only remains to be seen whether the immigrants can be induced to take advantage of it or whether it will take some compulsory law to distribute them advantageously over the more thinly settled sections of the country.

TWO WERE CREMATED.

Mother and Daughter Perish in Burning Building.

SAVANNAH, June 17.—Fire in the store of N. A. Fountain yesterday morning at the corner of Bay street and the Augusta road, resulted in the death of his step-mother and sister and the serious injury of Mr. Fountain and a colored man.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is suspected that burglars are responsible for it. It was discovered by Keuben Jones, a negro, who was passing the store. He waked Mr. Sawyer Potter, who aroused Mr. Fountain. The latter ran and called his mother and sister and all started for the stairs, when Miss Fountain seemed to realize that she was clad only in her night dress, and ran back for more clothing.
Her mother turned back for her and the two women were cut off by the flames. Mr. Fountain was overcome by the smoke and finally rolled out of the hall window, and Mr. Potter jumped to the ground.
The latter escaped unhurt, but Mr.
Fountain sustained injuries in his spine, besides several bruises. The mother and daughter were seen by the crowd that gathered outside, making frantic efforts to escape, but all attempt at rescue was useless and the women perished in the flames. Nothing remained of them in a short time but a few charred bones.

The remains were interred at the old family cemetery at Salem church in Effingham county yesterday afternoon. Mr. Fountain was taken to the home of friends, where he is being cared for. The negro who discovered the fire was also badly burned and narrowly escaped worse injury.

RAISED $200,000.

Atlanta Methodists to Establish "Industrial Church."

ATLANTA, June 17.—Yesterday was a red letter day with Atlanta Methodists. The principal churches of the city were occupied by the Bishops of the Southern church, the occasion being the inauguration of the movement for a great Wesley Memorial to be located in this city.

The Bishops in attendance were H. C. Morrison, New Orleans; E.
H. Hendrix, Kansas City; M.
Seth Ward, Nashville, Tenn.; Jas.
Atkins, Waynesville, N. C.; W. A.
Candler, Atlanta; J. B. Key, Sherman, Texas; and C. S. Gallaway, of Jackson, Miss.

Collections were taken up at the morning service, and the sum of $200,000 was raised by popular subscription. $75,000 of this sum being contributed by Asa G. Candler of this city.

The work planned by the Methodists is the first of its kind to be undertaken in the South. It is proposed to establish an "Industrial Church" to be located on the site of the present Wesley Memorial Tabernacle. There will be a church and large auditorium and in addition it is planned to erect a hospital, home for young men, home for young women, hospital and training school for nurses, and editorial rooms for the publication of the Wesleyan Christian Advocate.

Those in charge of the work feel that a fine beginning was made yesterday and will at once push the work of erection to completion.
The movement has enlisted the interest of members of this church throughout the state, as well as those living in this city.

Fine Care Fine Hair

NO HELP TO PEOPLE

They Get No Benefit From Reduced Rates.

COMMODITIES ADVANCE IN PRICE.

Not One Cent of Benefit From $2-000,000 Reduction, Says Commissioner Brown.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 19.—Railroad Commissioner Joseph M.
Brown, in addition to his recent dissenting opinion, today filed with the commission a lengthy brief dealing with the passenger and freight rate propositions, as they have presented themselves to the board since he has been a member of it.

Commissioner Brown takes the position that not a farmer or laborer or any other consumer in the state has got one cent of benefit from the more than $2,000,000 annual reduction that was secured on interstate freight to Georgia through the instrumentality of the commission in 1905. An interesting feature of his brief is some examples illustrative of this point.

The amount of reduction in the freight on hats, men's clothing, blankets, dry goods and the like from New York to Atlanta was $7 per carload of 30,000 pounds, yet not one of the Georgia farmers who filed the petition for lower passenger rates has been able to get one cent's reduction on any of these articles.
Then he shows that while the freight rate has decreased, the price of the products themselves has gone up.
The freight on men's shoes from the east was reduced in February and May 1905, the total reduction being $87 per car. Yet following that reduction the price of these shoes was advanced first 95 cents, and later $1.30 per pair. While the freight rate on men's suitings was reduced $27 per car, the price of the higher grades per carload was increased $11.957 per carload, or almost thirty-eight times as much as the entire freight rate.

Commissioner Brown gives many other similar examples, showing that while the freight rate has gone down, the price to the consumer has steadily gone up, and that from the freight rate reduction no advantage to the consumer has been secured. He asserts that the reduction in freight rates amounted to nothing more than a dividend to manufacturers and jobbers.
The passenger rate, on the other hand, affects the whole people, and a reduction therein benefits practically every individual because at one time or another all travel.

He says among other things that it was a significant fact that the stove trust declared an advance of 5 per cent, the same week that the Supreme Court handed down its decision sustaining the reduced rates on stoves ordered by the Railroad Commission.

WORK HAS BEGUN.

S. A. & N. Railroad is Heading Toward Chattanooga.

The first actual work of constructing the Savannah, Augusta and Northern railroad, under the contract awarded to W. J. Oliver & Co., was begun last Thursday afternoon. At that time the cutting of the right of way was begun near the Bulloch Oil Mill.
Only a small force of hands were employed to start with, but new men have been brought in and the cutting of the right of way is now going rapidly ahead.

The route diverges from the S.
& S. railway just below the oil mill and crosses the Central at what is known as the Shivers' place. Striking the branch in West Statesboro, the line follows it up to where the "big ditch" crosses West Main street, and leaves town in a northwesterly course.

The grading crew arrived yesterday with several carloads of mules and machinery and are now ready to begin thorough dirt behind the right of way crowd.

OVER THIRTY FEET LONG.

Mrs. Vank Gilbert, Wife of a Prominent Citizen of Albany, Ga., Sends Great Parasite to Col. Dillingham.

Thursday afternoon about four o'clock an unusual occurrence took place at the Albany Drug Co. when Mrs. Gilbert, wife of a prominent citizen of Albany, came up and called for Col. Dillingham. She seemed to be somewhat excited, and carried in her hand a good-sized glass dish, which upon examination was found to contain an immense parasite, commonly known as a tapeworm, which she handed over to Col. Dillingham with the remark that one and a half bottles of the famous Plant Juice had relieved her of that awful thing.

In the course of conversation that followed it developed that she had suffered for the past several years with some sort of stomach trouble which no physician had been able to diagnose, and that her condition had never improved to any appreciable extent, notwithstanding the fact that she had taken about every kind of medicine that had been recommended to her.

Last week her husband persuaded himself to procure a bottle of Dillingham's Plant Juice, and she began taking it with probably no more hope of relief than usual. She kept up the treatment, however, and on Tuesday at 11 o'clock was astonished at the result. Her gratification and pleasure over the relief she has secured can be better imagined than described, and she wants the world to know of the wonderful qualities of the remedy that has done so much for her.

Since being relieved of the tape-worm which measured thirty-one feet in length, her condition has rapidly improved; the miserable feeling has left her stomach and she is rapidly rounding into the condition of a healthy and happy woman.

The case of Mrs. Gilbert, like that of Miss Virginia Binges, has attracted unusual attention, and has opened the eyes of the people to the splendid curative powers of this wonderful remedy.

In speaking of the case of Mrs.
Gilbert Col. Dillingham said: "Of course I am gratified to be able to afford relief to those afflicted in the manner shown by her, but I have never for a moment doubted the efficacy of the Plant Juice to bring about the desired results. From the symptoms displayed by the patient I was confident I knew her condition, and therefore was little surprised when the result of the treatment was produced. The public would be astonished at the number of similar cures effected of which they never hear, and many of which escape even my observation, but I have never known a case, where the proper treatment was taken, where failure has resulted. The medicines Col. Dillingham manufactures speak for themselves, and I am only too happy to be able to provide relief for suffering humanity wherever I find it."

The Dillingham Plant Juice remedies can be found on sale at several of the prominent drug stores of the city and country. W. H. Ellis has a complete supply on sale.
The remedies consist of Dillingham's Plant Juice, the unfailing remedy for liver, stomach and kidney diseases, besides being a splendid blood remedy. The Plant Juice Lincture, never failing in cases of pain, aches and bruises; Plant Juice Eczema Cure, Plant Juice Asthma Cure, Plant Juice Salve and Plant Juice Soap—a fine toilet article and a certain cure for pimples and sores.

The prices of these medicines are always the same in the drug stores and they are in every case guaranteed to be of the same efficacy and value. When you need the remedies ask your favorite druggist for them.

TOOK HIS DICTATION.
And Then Got Work as His Stenographer.

She was riding into the city on the morning train, in search of a position as stenographer. Having seen the large, florid man in the seat in front of her, she saw, as she looked from his newspaper and put it away in his pocketbook, she was just curious enough to look up the corresponding place in her own paper. Finding there an advertisement for a stenographer, she noted down the address, and thanked her feminine curiosity.
She then turned to her pencil and notebook. It seemed as if, praeterea, she might, she never could keep her speed up to one hundred words a minute. She tried copying from the newspaper, but the motion of the car made the words dance before her eyes until they hurt her. She tried making up sentences as she went along, and failed. Finally she resorted to taking down the incoherent chatter of two women behind her, but her chief talk was often drowned in the disturbances of a number of young people still further back, who were tensely noisy.

The young lady struggled with a trade on the servant-girl problem, telling herself by the distance between stations—two minutes from Sherwood to Sherwood Corners; could she do two hundred words? Her hand dashed madly over the page, a large word of newspaper flew past her and struck the florid man in the neck.
The laughter behind subsided into dismayed giggles.

Slowly the large man turned his injured neck. He was redder than ever as he started to speak. The words fell from his lips but he did not speak, but simply. He was telling the bolterous young people seven seats back what he thought of them.
The young woman with the pencil saw her chance, and took it. Her glorious dictation. Her pencil drew. The speech lasted a minute and a half, and was cut short then only by the arrival of the train at the terminal. The stenographer slipped her book shut with a comfortable feeling of having done even better than a hundred words per minute, and set off in search of her position.

When she arrived at the address she had noted down she was ushered into a private office, where sat the man of the speech. She stammered a little until she saw that he did not recognize her. His mind had been full of bigger things. Then she humiliatingly told him her errand.
"Do you think you can take my dictation?" he said, frowning.

"What makes you think so? I talk very fast."
"But very distinctly, sir." She produced her note-book and laid it open before him. "Here's a sample." She began to read her notes.
His jaw dropped. There was his masterpiece of the train, complete and unabridged. It really sounded very well, so full of fire.

When she finished he looked at her sharply. His face was very red but his eye twinkled.

"The job's yours," he said, in a subdued voice.—Youth's Companion.

APPENDICITIS
Not at all Necessary to Operate in Many Cases.

Automobiles and Appendicitis scare some people before they are hit.
Appendicitis is often caused by a lunch starch in the bowels. Starch is hard to digest and clogs up the digestive machinery—also tends to form coles in the coccum. That's the blind pouch at entrance to the appendix.

A N. H. girl had appendicitis, but lived on milk for awhile—then Grape-Nuts and got well without an operation.
She says: "Five years ago while at school, I suffered terribly with constipation and indigestion. "Too much starch, white bread, potatoes, etc., which she did not digest."
"Soon after I left school I had an attack of appendicitis and for three weeks lived on milk and water.
When I recovered enough to eat solid food there was nothing that would agree with me, until a friend recommended Grape-Nuts.

"When I began to eat Grape-Nuts I weighed 95 lbs., but I soon rose to 115 lbs. The distress after eating left me entirely and now I am like a new person."

(A Little Grape-Nuts dissolved in hot water or milk would have been much better for this case than milk alone, for the starch part of the wheat and barley is changed into a form of digestible sugar in making Grape-Nuts.) No more given by Postum

HISTORY AS IT IS.
Report of Meeting of Railway Managers to Cut the Melon.

The directors of the Great Northwestern Railroad Company were called to order by the president. It was a highly important meeting.

"We have, as you know, accumulated a surplus of thirty millions of dollars. As honest and painstaking men, it only remains for us to decide the form in which this shall be distributed to our hard-working stockholders, of whom I am one of the largest."

"Gentlemen, excuse me for interrupting you; but the fact is, a strike has broken place at the other end of the road and is rapidly spreading.
The engineers complain that they have to work nearly fifteen hours out of the twenty-four, which makes it impossible for them to do their duty, thus increasing the danger of severe accident. The brakemen are paid starvation wages, owing to the fact that the Ice Trust, of which I am a director," murmured the president—"the Coal Trust, the Meat Trust—"in which we are all vitally interested," murmured the other directors—"have put up the price of all necessities. Here are the demands of the men."

The president, concealing his annoyance as much as possible, glanced over the papers handed to him, and then said:
"What is your pleasure? Shall we raise the wages of these misguided men?"

"Never!" muttered the other directors unanimously.
Thereupon the president of the road turned to the superintendent.
"You have heard our reply? He said, 'Make usual efforts to take care of passengers and shippers, and the militia if necessary, and issue a manifesto showing how we have worked and labored to preserve harmony, how unjust the demands of our employees are, and how we will, if necessary, fight to the death and put the dear public to no end of inconvenience and trouble rather than give up one iota of the rights to which we are entitled under the Constitution."

Then, turning to the directors, he whispered, "Gentlemen, I guess we'd better not cut that melon until after that strike is over."—Life.

The Evolution of Household Remedies.

The modern patent medicine business is the natural outgrowth of the old-time household remedies.

In the early history of this country, EVERY FAMILY HAD ITS HOME-MADE MEDICINES. Herb teas, bitters, laxatives and tonics were to be found in almost every house, compounded by the housewife, sometimes assisted by the apothecary or the family doctor. Such remedies as pills, which was aloes and quassia, dissolved in apple brandy. Sometimes a hop tonic, made of whiskey, hops and bitter banks. A score or more of popular, home-made remedies were thus compounded, the formulas for which were passed along from house to house, sometimes written, sometimes verbally communicated.

The patent medicine business is a natural outgrowth from this wholesome, old-time custom. In the beginning, some enterprising doctor, impressed by the usefulness of one of these home-made remedies, would take it up, improve it in many ways, manufacture it on a large scale, advertise it mainly through almanacs for the home, and thus it would become used over a large area. LAT-TERLY THIS HOUSEHOLD REMEDY BUSINESS TOOK A MORE EXACT AND SCIENTIFIC FORM.

Peruna was originally one of these old-time remedies. It was used by the Monmouths, of Pennsylvania, before it was offered to the public for sale. Dr. Hartman, THE ORIGINAL COMPOUNDER OF PERUNA, is of Mennonite origin. First, he prescribed it for his neighbors and his patients. The sale of it increased, and at last he established a manufacturing plant and furnished it to the general drug trade.

Peruna is useful in a great many climatic ailments, such as coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis and cat-arrhs of the respiratory tract. It is also useful in all cases of general debility, which last for a considerable period.
On their revival from this state they begin to bud and flower in remarkable profusion. The known physiology of plants does not explain this phenomenon, but those who have seen the results of experiments with other and chloroform attest the reality of the results.

WAS GOOD BASEBALL.

Gobblers and Statesboro had Three Close Games.

For real swift baseball, it would be hard to beat the three games at this place last Thursday and Friday between the home team and the Savannah "Gobblers."

The visitors were young boys from the city, and a more gentlemanly set of fellows have never followed the game this way. They were quiet in their deportment and not kickers when things went against them. Besides this, they were baseball players, therefore they did no kicking—things didn't go against them much; hence, no kicking.

As proof of the article of baseball played, five runs was the highest score made during either of the three games. The first game, Thursday afternoon, was called in the twelfth inning on account of rain, when the score was tied at four runs each. Friday's first game was won by the visitors by a score of 5 to 3; and the second was taken by the home boys at 3 to 0.

There may be some of our readers who are not interested in this prattle, but to those who study the game it looks like good playing.

WHOSE ROAD IS IT?

Theory That T. F. Ryan is Backing Our B. A. & N.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 14.—Is Thomas F. Ryan preparing to "strong-arm" the J. Pierpont Morgan interests, or is he planning to unload railroad property on the state of Georgia?

These are questions being asked by those interested in the railroad situation in Georgia, since dispatches from New York announced that Ryan is believed to be back of the newly chartered Savannah, Augusta and Northern road, for which W. J. Oliver was given the contract.

These dispatches are to the effect that it is understood in Wall street that Ryan and his interests are back of the proposed road and that the Statesboro incorporators are only acting for those interests.

Those who believe that Ryan is preparing to "strong-arm" Morgan and the Southern and Central, point out that Ryan, while not openly hostile to Morgan, has no use for that financier. They recall the time when General Sam Thomas and Ryan were the reorganizers of the Central road, and how they didn't think they got their share from Morgan's hands when the job of reorganizing was complete.

They declare that Ryan remembers the frosty deal he got from Morgan to this day and they think they see in the proposed road a club to "strong-arm" Morgan's interests. The building of the road as far as Athens would connect it with the Seaboard and give that road a direct line from Atlanta to Savannah. But before it had reached that point, the "strong-arm" theorists believe what had already been built could be unloaded on the Southern or Central, which are the same thing, they say.

The other theory is that the building of a part of the road would make it a good piece of property to sell to the state to continue the Western and Atlantic to the sea.

And while these people are saying the proposed road is only a bluff and that if work is started it will not be commenced with the idea of carrying out the announced program, those back of the road proclaim what they are going to do, and on top of this is announced that W. J. Oliver has signed the contract to build the road for $12,000,000.

As proposed, the road will run from Savannah through Statesboro, in Bulloch; Gibson, in Glascock county; Thomson, in McDuffie; Washington, in Wilkes; Lexington, in Oglethorpe; Athens, Jefferson, Gainesville, Jasper, in Pickens county, and Dalton to Chattanooga.

MASONS HAD FESTIVAL.

Visiting Lodges Joined With Ogechee Last Evening.

The five other Masonic Lodges of Bulloch county and one from Screven joined last evening with Ogechee Lodge in a meeting that was replete with social interest. The gathering was the largest ever known at the local lodge room, and the occasion was a most pleasant one.

The exercises were interspersed with a banquet in the hall below the lodge room, at which a delightful repast of barbecued meats and the necessary accompaniments were plentiful. After the intermission, the third degree was conferred, the various stations of the lodge being occupied by visiting masters and past masters.

Those from other lodges were, Millray, I. S. L. Miller, A. W. Stewart, I. S. Perkins, L. C. Perkins; Metter, A. H. Stapler, J. R. Lee, Julian Edensfield, L. B. Hulsey, G. W. Bland; Stilson, J. E. TO HAVE PRELIMINARY.

Franklin Will be Given Hearing Next Friday.

H. R. Franklin, the white man from Rocky Ford who was placed in jail here last Wednesday under serious charge in connection with his two daughters, 14 and 17 years of age, will be given a preliminary hearing next Friday.

The warrant against Franklin was sworn out by his wife's brother, Mr. J. W. Remley, of Effingham county. Mr. H. B. Strange has been engaged to assist in the prosecution and Mr. R. Lee Moore will represent the defendant.

Franklin's wife and both his daughters are standing loyally by the accused, and strongly maintain his innocence of the crime. It is said that Franklin and his wife's people have long been at odds; that he married her against their will and that their differences have continued from that date. This, the defense will contend, is the bottom of the charges made against Franklin. In addition to this, Franklin has not been always on the best terms with all of his neighbors, and it is said that their gossip has had much to do with shaping sentiment against him.

TIME TO DISARM

Schley Says Not Until Millenium Dawns.

LION AND LAMB ARE FAR APART.

No Nation Can Afford to Discard Her Defenses While There is so Much Restlessness.

BALTIMORE, June 13.—Admiral Schley's address at the Jacob Tome Institute at Port Deposit Md., this week touched upon the profession of arms in a way that discourages the disarmament proposition. "The profession is one of the oldest in history," said the admiral, "honorable and useful alike to the state. As a member of that profession I could not be expected to have much sympathy with those who misrepresent the value of its work, or who decry the usefulness of its duties. In those days we hear so much of peace congress and the convention at The Hague, and much is hoped for, from those assembled there. In behalf of those of my cloth I would say that it has been my privilege to meet and know some of the great soldiers and sailors of my time in most of the countries of the world. It is only just to them to say that they were uniformly gentle and universally humane. They were in no sense fond of war, because the study of their life has better equipped them to wage it, but when brought face to face with the fact that their nation was unable to find common ground upon which to stand in adjusting differences with another, they were ready to step into the breach with all that might mean of sacrifice for home and country.

One appreciates more than I do the motives of peace societies or the credit due them for the good they would do, but I can assure you that the day is distant when the lion and the lamb can lie down together, and when they get up the lamb can be certain that he is not in the northwest corner of the lion. It is hardly too much to say that the era of a thousand years of peace is almost too far off to hope that anyone of us—present may ever hope to see the beginning, but in the meantime might it not be well that we should constitute ourselves a living force for the protection of law and order against those other forces within the state which are destructive to its peace and quiet.

"I welcome such conferences as that at The Hague. All men who look upon war as a calamity will rejoice to know that there is a spirit of willingness prevalent among nations to limit the scope of war, or to eliminate from its code some of the causes which now lead to it, and to substitute for these the method of arbitration. If no other good results from such conferences than to strike from its code a few of the causes which now lead to that misfortune, the effect will be to lessen its possibilities and to make resort to it more and more rare. "I know of no nation today, however, under the present disposition of human nature, which can afford to discard her defenses while there is so much class restlessness under restraint or class impatience of authority as we see in every country around us. No, no, my friends, it is a far cry to the day when liberty will be able to hold footing without the protection of arms in the hands of men who are trained to use them in her defense. "I am among those who believe that when the kingdoms of this world shall become veritably the kingdoms of Christ on earth, then, and only then, will war disappear and the rumors of war cease among men."

COUNTY WENT DRY.

In Bartow Vote is 20 to 1 Against Bar Rooms.

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., June 30.—Bartow county went dry today by nearly 20 to 1, the vote being 1,715 to 94. Three cheers were given to Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Felton when they drove up to the polls and the venerable doctor cast his vote against the sale.

Three hundred school children paraded the streets this afternoon in the cause of prohibition. Is it said the liquor men are talking of contesting on the ground that no tickets "for the sale" were furnished.

Because the county commissioners refused to grant a license there has not been a saloon or liquor house of any kind in Bartow in twenty-two years.

A meeting of the ladies of Statesboro and vicinity will be held at the court house at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Tuesday, July 2nd, for the purpose of organizing a chapter of U. D. C. All the ladies are urged to take part in the organization.

LOWNDES GOES DRY.

Majority for Prohibition in Every District of County.

VALDOSTA, Ga., June 24.—One of the most remarkable prohibition elections ever held in Georgia ended here this evening with an overwhelming victory for the prohibitionists. The prohibitionists had the best organization ever known in the county, the main strength being the women auxiliaries in every district. The anti's were unable to get a strong organization of the business men.

The prohib held rallies everywhere yesterday, and after the big meeting at the opera house a committee of 100 was sent to trains to meet bands from Fitzgerald and Savannah and persuade them to return home. The prohib paid their expenses and gave them a good sum and told them the bands were not needed. They also visited several negro workers and informed them that it was to be a white folks' election. The consequence was the negroes did not vote to any great extent, the prohib probably getting a majority of those who ventured to the polls.

The ladies were at the church at 4 o'clock this morning and marched on the polls before 6 o'clock. They formed a line on each side of the walk extending from the court house to the middle of Central avenue, leaving a passage four feet wide for voters to walk through to cast their votes. There were probably 500 women on hand.

Out in the crowds the ladies worked among the voters urging them to vote the dry ticket and supplying them with badges and tickets. In this way quite a good many votes were captured for the dry side. This program is said to have been carried out at every precinct in the county.

The prohib also served ice tea, lemonade, hot coffee and sandwiches, etc. The total vote in the county was 1,296 for prohibition and 487 anti-prohibition. Every precinct in the county went dry, and Valdosta gave 349 majority for that side.

The anti's were overwhelmed and did little work. One of their leaders surrendered at 6 o'clock, when the polls opened, stating to the crowd that he "would not bluff any longer," and voted the dry ticket.

The women sang and prayed continuously from sunrise to sundown, many of them having remained up all night.

A NEW CHARITY.

Millionaire Will Leave Fund to New York Tramps.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Believing that the libraries of Andrew Carnegie and the endowment funds given by John D. Rockefeller to colleges are not reaching the poorer members of society, James Eads Howes, grandson of the builder of the St. Louis bridge and the New Orleans jetties, has decided to give his fortune to the betterment of the tramps.

Mr. Howes has studied the tramp from the viewpoint of the tramp. He has ridden on trucks, gone hungry in the hobo camp and tried to earn a living as a laborer on railroad work. Mr. Howes believes that the tramp may be cured if the red tape that binds the ordinary charity be eliminated.

He has come to Chicago from St. Louis to further his project. Relief stations have been established in New York and Chicago, where the tramp may be cared for until he gets on his feet. When he gets the money it costs to help him on the upward path, he is expected to pay back. This contribution goes into the fund for the relief of indigent hoboes.

"Carnegie and Rockefeller do no good to the man who is fast losing his self-respect," says Mr. Howes. "They don't try to help a man along the pathway that leads to happiness. You can't eat books, and what chance has a laborer's son to go to college?"

NEW LAWS PLANNED

Bills are Now in Shape for Passage by Legislature.

NO NEW LAW ON IMMIGRATION.

Bill to Extend State Road to the Sea Among Important Measures to be Introduced.

ATLANTA, June 19.—The session of the general assembly is only a week off and friends of the new administration are busily engaged in preparing bills to carry out every pledge of the platform adopted at Macon when Hoke Smith was acclaimed the gubernatorial nominee. It is known that certain of these measures meet absolutely Mr. Smith's views, and that he hopes to have the anti-pass and the anti-laboring bills passed from the floor of the house without reference to committee.

The disfranchisement act has also been drawn and will be introduced by Representative Williams of Laurens. Other things advocated in the platform and for which measures will be introduced will be the majority plan for the election of state officers and a general law to carry out this plan will be drafted.

A measure will also be introduced providing for a constitutional amendment to increase the state senate. It is proposed to constitute every county having a population of 20,000 into a separate senatorial district and no district shall contain more than three counties. The platform also advocated the state's paying the expense of holding primaries. A bill to require railroads to domesticate will probably be introduced, as the platform mentioned it.

Hon. Hooper Alexander's bill to extend the state road to the sea will be introduced, and it is said, stands an excellent chance of passing at this session. It is said that the immigration movement or efforts to pass any legislation along this line has been quietly dropped.

The opposition of the Farmers' Union appears to have been effective. Representative Murphy Candler of DeKalb is preparing to introduce a bill giving the railroad commission more power.

AGAINST THE SOUTH.

Immigrants Complain of Their Treatment Here.

NEW YORK, June 19.—A Berlin dispatch to the Herald says that the North German Lloyd and Hamburg American Steamship lines have refused to act on a resolution adopted by the southwestern immigration congress and will do nothing toward the development of New Orleans as an immigration station.

No official reason for the decision is given, but the Herald's dispatch quotes an agent of the steamship company as saying that until employers of labor in the southern states learn to treat whites as their treatment should be immigrated to that part of the country will not be considered.

Austrians and Germans who have gone there according to the agents' statement, have made bitter complaint of the treatment they received and have either gone north or returned.

BID RAILROAD DEAL.

Reported that B. & O. Railroad Has Bought Central.

ATLANTA, June 24.—The stock of the Central of Georgia Railway Company (which has heretofore been voted in a holding committee, has been acquired by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, according to a well defined report in Atlanta, which is accepted generally as the truth. The Baltimore and Ohio is a Morgan property, as is also the Southern railway. The same Wall street interests control both properties and enjoy the financial benefit of the ownership. Heretofore the Southern railway has owned the stock of the Central and controlled its policy and management through a holding committee headed by Adrian J. Felt of Savannah and H. C. Cunningham of New York.

By selling the Central railroad to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, the ownership passed from the holding committee of the Southern railway to a competing company and in no way violates the state law. The transfer is regarded here, and is in fact, only a move on the part of the Morgan interests to avoid the law which they realize is likely to be invoked during Governor Hoke Smith's administration. The holding committee owned five thousand shares, all the stock of the Central, worth five million dollars, and this is said to have been transferred.

TO HAVE AN EXPERT.

Railroad Commission to be Increased to Five Members.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 18.—Murphy Candler of DeKalb county, will introduce a bill in the house the first day it meets to reorganize the Railroad Commission of Georgia so as to provide for five members instead of three. The bill provides that there shall be one man who will devote his entire time to the work.

This man is to be the chairman of the commission and is to receive a salary of $4,000 a year. The other four members are to receive $2,500 which is the salary now paid to the members of the commission.

Another bill which Mr. Candler will introduce will provide for a rate expert to work in connection with the railroad commission. This expert who is to be appointed by the governor will receive a salary of $4,000 a year.
